GxP Systems Wins Sustained Excellence Category of 2009 Leaders Award

Cork, Ireland, October 22, 2009--GxP Systems, a leader in lean validation consultancy and project management services, is pleased to announce that it has won the Sustained Excellence category of the 2009 Leaders Awards, sponsored by it@cork. The Sustained Excellence category is awarded annually to a technology company that has demonstrated a consistent record of growth, profitability, employment or innovation, is a strong contributor to the economy, and has a management team that has adapted consistently over the lifetime of the company to maintain a sustained contribution to the region.

The award was presented to GxP Systems in a ceremony held on October 22nd in Cork, Ireland. In his keynote address, Frank Ryan, CEO of Enterprise Ireland, the Irish government business development agency, commented that awards such as the Leaders Awards, where nominating and judging is performed by peers, were held in high regard internationally. The event was attended by noted dignitaries and industry experts.

In accepting the award, GxP Systems CEO John Wall thanked his team for their dedication and hard work, and said that the quality of people at GxP Systems was one of the key factors of the company's success. Wall described the award as a tribute to the company's excellent staff, and said that it was a validation of its core values.

The Leaders Awards Ceremony, held annually, recognizes leading companies and individuals in the community that are driving progress in Ireland. Companies are nominated for various awards including: High Potential Start-Up, High Growth Company, Sustained Excellence, R&D Project, IT Department, Green Technology, and Excellence in Education.
